

SHE LOVES ME NOT

© Frank Jones

She loves me not, at least that's what she'd say
But I am not about to let her get away
She loves me not, she told me yesterday
But she changes her mind all of the time anyway
She loves me not, but she must be mistaken
It's some kind of game she's playin and she's only fakin
She really loves me
She loves me not

She loves me not, but do not be deceived
She's all fiction and contradiction and cannot always be believed
She loves me not but all her goodbyes are lies
Any tick of the clock now and she's bound to realise
She really loves me

I don't wanna think about havin to breath without her
You see, she's everything I've got and that's why I doubt her When she says such stupid things, I don't know where she gets them from
And I know you think I'm fooling myself, but I know you're wrong
She really loves me
She really loves me
She really loves me
She loves me not
She loves me not
